

CHATEAU HAUT PERDRIAS

CHÂTEAU HAUT PERDRIAS RESERVE BLAYE - CÔTES DE BORDEAUX

A premium red wine from Bordeaux, France, the Chateau Haut Perdrias Reserve boasts a deep, opaque ruby color and an intense, complex aroma profile. Notes of ripe dark fruits, such as blackcurrants and plums, are complemented by hints of mocha, vanilla, and leather.

AGE & SURFACE OF THE VINES
28 years / 100 hectares

GRAPE VARIETIES & TERRIORS
Merlot, Malbec, Petit Verdot

The unique terroir of Côtes de Blaye contributes significantly to the wine's outstanding qualities. The soil in this region is gravelly and clayey, with a significant presence of limestone[5]. This combination of soil types, along with the cool marine coastal climate of Bordeaux, provides ideal conditions for growing the Merlot, Malbec, and Petit Verdot grapes used in Chateau Haut Perdrias Reserve

WINEMAKING & AGEING
The wine undergoes careful vinification and aging processes to develop its complex flavor profile. After harvesting, the grapes are fermented and then aged in oak barrels, which imparts nuanced vanilla and chocolate notes to the wine. This aging process, which can last between 12 to 24 months for red Bordeaux wines, allows for an exchange between the air and the wine, enhancing its aromatic profile and adding subtle oaky characteristics.

KOSHER CERTIFICATION

This wine is certified under the strict guidance of the Badatz and OU and is kosher for Passover.

RELATED COMMENT
Chateau Haut Perdrias Reserve is a testament to the exceptional craftsmanship and passion that goes into creating a truly remarkable wine. Its deep, inky ruby hue holds the promise of a captivating journey through the senses. On the palate, the wine unfolds with a velvety texture, revealing layers of luscious black fruit flavors seamlessly integrated with well-structured tannins and a judicious oak influence. In the 2024 Concours de Bordeaux wine competition, the 2022 vintage of Château Haut Perdrias Reserve won a Gold medal.
