WINEMAKING & AGEING

Grapes are hand-harvested at optimal ripeness and gently destemmed before undergoing a meticulous fermentation process. Malolactic fermentation is carefully managed to soften tannins and add complexity. The wine is then aged in a combination of new and used oak barrels, where it undergoes micro-oxygenation, allowing for a slow and controlled development of flavors and aromas. Regular racking and barrel topping ensure optimal aging conditions, leading to a wine with elegance, structure, and a long aging potential.

KOSHER CERTIFICATION

This wine is certified under the strict guidance of the Badatz and OU and is kosher for Passover.
